The purpose of this study is to uncover genetic mutations responsible for inherited immune diseases and to perform follow up studies as to how the mutation affects cell function.

Eligibility Requirements:
- Children under age 18 willing to participate in study
- Ability of biological Mom AND Dad to provide blood samples

Participation Requirements:
- Blood draws (may be asked for repeat draws with consent)
- Clinical health survey and/or medical questionnaire

There is NO COST to be enrolled in this study. Participants are not compensated.

For more information, please contact

Carrie Lucas PhD
carrie.lucas@yale.edu
203-785-7158

Andrew Rice
a.rice@yale.edu
203-737-7425

Yale University: Genomics of Inherited Diseases of the Immune System
HIC#: 1605017838

Image Provided by Yale Medicine's Pediatric genomics discovery program